Journey Overview

Located just one hour north of Colonia del Sacramento is the small town of Carmelo in the vineyard area. Migrants introduced both cheese and wine to Uruguay hundreds of years ago, and nowadays the country is rich in vineyards, wineries, artisan cheese-makers and boutique olive oil producers. There are several accommodation options on the outskirts of town that make a great base from which to explore the history of the area and sample the production in one of Uruguay's most famous wine regions.
